Join author Dr. Gloria McDaniel-Hall as she reads her autobiographical children's book aloud. "Gloria Finds Her Voice" is the true story of a young African American girl who initially struggled in school because of racism during the time of the Civil Rights Movement in Galveston, Texas.

As a result of her experience, she developed selective mutism (an anxiety disorder in which a person is unable to speak in certain social situations). She eventually becomes more sure of her abilities and self-worth when she attends a more supportive school.

This book is filled with beautiful illustrations and a real plot which highlights the power of great teachers, the impact of supportive school settings, and the need for us all to find our voices.

Dr. Gloria will read the story virtually, answer students' questions about her experiences and talk with them about the importance of speaking up – particularly in today's society.
