

PD Offering for Preservice Teachers - Summer and Fall Intercession

Take advantage of a special no-cost professional development course offered exclusively to NLU's pre-service teacher preparation candidates. With a focus on instructional strategies, NCE's Strategies for Remote and Online Instruction in PreK-12 Classrooms will help prepare you for teaching and learning in PreK-12 e-environments. Topics will include: principles of effective online instruction, planning for e-learning, selecting digital tools, and engaging students and families.

- Course meets asynchronously with optional Zoom drop-in dates to support understanding and apply teaching and learning strategies. Bring your questions and dialogue with others.
- Delivery is 6 weeks of on-line modules with five optional Zoom sessions
- No cost for the zero credit course
- To register, submit the Returning Student Registration form: <https://www.nl.edu/registeronline/returningstudents/> or contact your advisor.

Registration Information:

COURSE TITLE: Strategies for Remote and Online Instruction in PreK-12 Classrooms

COURSE NUMBER: LSE 595D

CRN: varies by term. See online schedule <https://nl.edu/course-schedule/>

CREDIT HOURS: 0

COST: Free

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Donna Wakefield Ph.D.

Associate Professor; ISTE Certified Educator
Apple Teacher; Google for Education Certified Trainer

